Dear Commissioner Henney;

As a concerned mother and grandmother I am worried about the health of my children and especially, my grandchildren. The addition of antibiotics to animal feed can make bacteria resistant to those antibiotics. This could mean that an antibiotic could not cure children, catching an infection caused by one of those resistant bacteria. Please support the petition filed by The Center for Science in the Public Interest designed to ban the use of medically useful antibiotics in animal feed.

Thank you,

Ann Tonia Silverio
